Georgian columns . . . willow oaks . . . chimes in the mellowing twilight . . . two students hand in hand . . . a pebble ripples the lake . . . the whispering breeze . . . this is Pfeiffer—Pfeiffer, a small liberal arts college, deep in the Carolina pines . . . Misenheimer, home of Pfeiffer . . . a place where a friendly "hi" is contagious and a few words, always welcome. . .

Pfeiffer was established in 1885, and throughout the history of the college, the dominant trend has been progress in all phases of its development. Today Pfeiffer is still growing. This year the J. Lem Stokes II Student Center, a new air-conditioned building which contains lounges, a cafeteria, soda shop, book store, infirmary, game rooms, and offices, was dedicated; and plans are in preliminary development for a new library to be built adjacent to the Center.

Pfeiffer is a campus of buildings, but more significant, it is a campus of purpose—its aim is to develop each student intellectually, spiritually, and physically . . . the college believes that its training of young people for positions of leadership in the several disciplines and professions of life can best be accomplished in a liberal arts tradition.

Pfeiffer is growing . . . and with it, we grow. . . this is . . .

“THEN WHAT IS THIS EDUCATION?”
first . . .
 it is ASPIRATION . . .
 and in recognition, we dedicate our year to . . .

DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM D. COTTON

"The main purpose in education, in my opinion, is to develop awareness of the significance of a variety of useful aspects of human life. In order to accomplish this goal the student must be brought into contact with and gain a basic grasp of the more important facts. However, I feel that teaching facts alone is utterly futile. The really educated person must not only have mastered important information in one or more fields, but must possess a high degree of sensitiveness to all facets of life . . . Our students must learn to differentiate between what appears to be true and reality itself. I also firmly hold that the job of a college is to develop correct work habits. Mastery of facts is vitally important, but accurate and discriminating processes will remain long after most of the subject matter is forgotten."

DR. WM. D. COTTON'S PHILOSOPHY OF EDUCATION

Then what is this education? First it is aspiration and then dedication. A man and a woman who undergo the long and complex process of acquiring wisdom, who strive to discipline their minds to select and refine the facts of knowledge and experience; and who, when their years of formal education are completed, instead of hoarding the fruits of their studies, dedicate themselves to others and undertake the task of educating; a man and a woman who share their knowledge in a selfless attempt to preserve the ideals of men and history, and who never forget that they too are forever students. At Pfeiffer College we are fortunate enough to have, within our faculty, a couple who are dedicated to us, the students, and it is with great humility that we may express our appreciation to them for their faith in us as young men and women striving to become more than we are, by dedicating to them, the 1965 Chimes.

Dr. William D. Cotton is originally from Ohio and his wife, Daisy L. Cotton, from South Carolina. Dr. Cotton received his A.B. from the College of Wooster in 1932, his M.A. from the University of North Carolina in 1948, and his Ph.D. from the University in 1954; while Mrs. Cotton obtained her A.B. from Atlantic Christian College in 1939 and her M.A. from the University of North Carolina in 1951. They were members of the Mars Hill College faculty before coming to Pfeiffer. Both Dr. Cotton and Mrs. Cotton were attending U.N.C. when President Stokes came to the University to interview applicants for the faculty of Pfeiffer College. They were attracted to Pfeiffer because of its affiliation with the church, and in 1954 joined the faculty of Pfeiffer where Dr. Cotton is the Chairman of the Division of Social Sciences and the Head of the Department of History and Mrs. Cotton, an assistant professor in the English Department. They have two children, Andy, 15, and Billy, 17, and a friendly collie dog. The Cotton family enjoys camping out, and has traveled throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Europe on camping trips.

To the students of Pfeiffer they have always been an inspiration, willing to sacrifice their time to help each student who comes into their classroom or offices.

We dedicate to you, Dr. and Mrs. Cotton . . . our year . . .

"Then what is this education?" It is also an institution designed and administered to instruct the highest ideals of man . . . a classroom where we are formally introduced to knowledge . . . a library where we supplement selectively . . . a dorm room where we can interpret individually . . . a lounge where we can discuss informally . . . this is Pfeiffer College . . . 1965.

Administration Building

Lectures and more lectures . . . take a letter, please . . . they rebuilt the theater again . . . I have to cash this check for the week-end.

J. Lem Stokes, II Student Center

Pfeiffer Hilton . . . always something to do . . . pool . . . Cokes and 'burgers . . . we could eat in the cafeteria tonight . . . out of coricidin?

Harris Science Building

Formaldehyde . . . what did you find in your frog? . . . I'll meet you on the terrace for the eclipse . . . Mr. Dial, the bell has rung . . .

Jane Freeman Hall

Typewriters clicking . . . Ich bin deutsch . . . has he posted the grades yet? . . . wash your brushes out before you leave!

Merner Library

Meet you in the stacks . . . quiet, please . . . the vertical file? . . . they don't have Playboy!

The President's Home

Teas and receptions . . . quaint . . . elegant . . . wonder if Better Homes and Gardens has seen the interior?

Goode Hall and Cline Hall

The memories of the old dining hall . . . "Run, Spot, run" . . . junior girls and ping pong games . . . they've re-built the theater again.

Pfeiffer Chapel

Chimes at '6 . . . quiet and peaceful . . . especially popular on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 10 a.m.

Rowe Hall

Sign my permission, Miss Wheless . . . closed study . . . the big rush once a year, every year . . . patio parties.

Mitchell Gymnasium

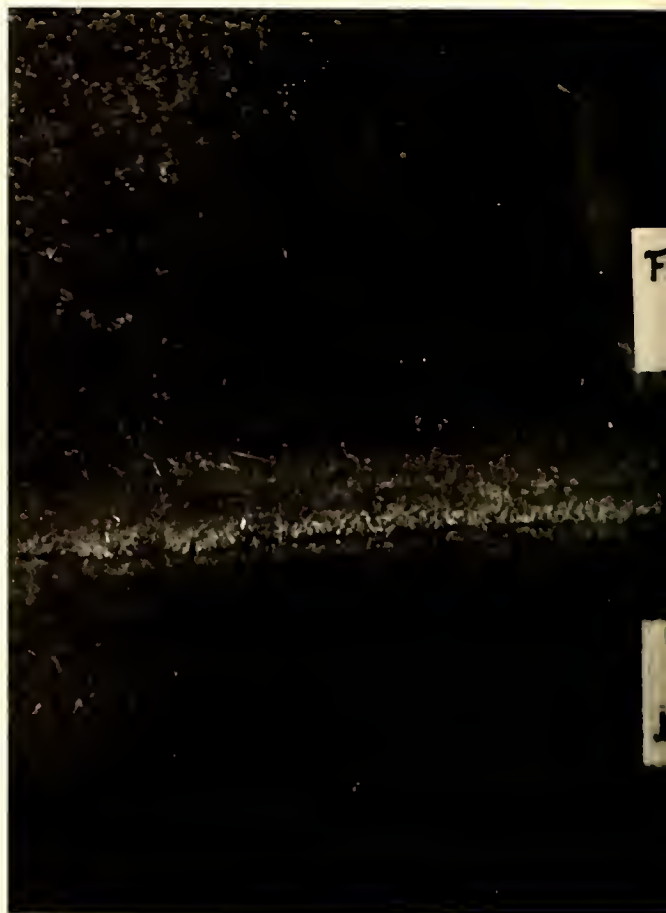

Get the ball, y'all . . . and to the music, up one-two-down one-two . . . regular bull sessions . . . and jam sessions, if you remember Dave Brubeck . . . every athletes dream come true.

Men's Dormitories

Across the tracks . . . Foote, Plyler, Klufflinger . . . and Vaughn, of course . . . water fights and football games . . . large, spacious rooms and bridge orgies.

"Look, Jane, look. See Father, Jane? Look, Father look.
Jane sees you . . ."

"Damn!"

When good friends get together . . .

"Then what is this education?" Finally it is people involved . . . and at Pfeiffer as the Fall Semester begins, wisdom . . . the goal, but in obtaining it, we encounter life . . . humorous and pathetic . . . hectic and boring at times, but always changing. This is our year . . . unique in itself . . . a personality of its own.

"If I took six pages of notes during the first class meeting . . . on the purpose of the course . . ."

"Can I borrow your hanky, I have something in my eye."

"Are you sure you don't have any yellow polka dot ties, I just got this new suit . . ."

"This is the best smoker I've ever seen!"

"Dick Tracy is so stupid!"

We begin to study . . . classes during the day . . . quiet hours of contemplation in the evening . . . the hectic week of orientation fading into the past as the Freshmen begin to adapt to their new environment.

"I never thought I'd find Fanny Hill in here!"

"I'm not kidding, the curtain won't open!"

"Hic!"

Still we find moments to relax . . . in the student union, the new center of Pfeiffer's social life . . . anticipating the soccer season . . . cheering our team to victory . . . we laugh . . . we dance . . . we sing in the sunshine.

The Lake Project is well underway.

One of Pfeiffer's "Pool Majors."

"Call the waitress over—I want another pizza!"

"Do the Buzzard . . ."

"What time do you get finished tonight?"

Homecoming Week-end blasts in . . . dormitories decorated . . . a flaming bonfire reflects the exuberant spirit pervading the campus . . . an exciting Falcon victory over Belmont Abbey . . . alumni . . . a smiling Homecoming queen . . . dorm visitation . . . and the climax . . . a rockin' dance to the music of the Rivas . . . quips we still hear weeks afterwards . . . "Little Carolina" . . . "Did you go in Vaughn?" . . . "Out of a Pine tree?" . . . "Why would you park a car on the railroad tracks?" . . . Homecoming . . . an exciting week-end we will never forget.

Merner and Foote's contribution—a mechanical falcon with flashing eyes.

Washington and Klutinger win first prize for their unique display, but will the girls ever forget cleaning up after the horse departed!

Pat Leland, Homecoming Queen.

"Oh ya'll, I think one of those guys just fell off the roof!"

The Homecoming court enjoys the enthusiasm of the crowd.

The Falcons crush Abbey in an exciting victory!

A cheerleader reflects a moment of anxiety during the exciting game.

"Hit many cars?"

The Homecoming queen is crowned by Dr. Stokes.

"We have to find places for the fifty extra people—even if they didn't send reservations!"

The ideal Halloween couple

Halloween . . . our first special dinner in the new cafeteria . . . pranks . . . candy corn fights . . . another fabulous dance . . . but under the masks, we're the same . . . a week-end of relief from our studies, but it's over too soon.

"Now dear, let me show you the scientific method."

"They say the Great Pumpkin just rose out on the soccer field!"

Alfred D. Crimi, a well-known muralist, visits Pfeiffer to display his talents.

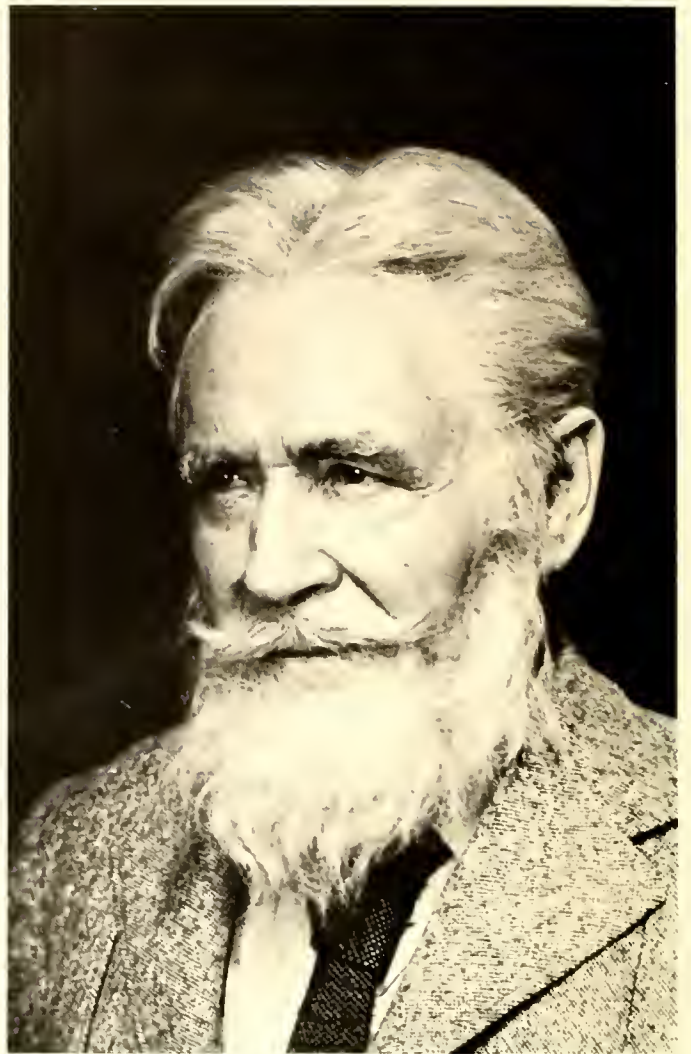

The basketball trips could be rough this year.

A scene from a unique adaptation of Spoon River Anthology.

Bramwell Fletcher, Henry Higgins of Broadway, presents his premiere of the George Bernard Shaw Story at Pfeiffer.

The Fall Concert provides the entertaining and "folksy" Brandywine Singers.

Mime Chili Wang in "The Chamber Maid."

Each girl captures her favorite for the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

"I don't know what three taps mean, but you kicked my foot, not your partners!"

"I still say Goldwater's got it!"

National elections . . . "Have you got your absentee ballot?" . . . the lights glare all night November 6th, as concerned students and professors await the results . . . the Democrats rejoice . . . the Republicans recuprate . . . then politics drift into the past . . . campus life continues . . . and for the first time no Thanksgiving holidays . . . students roam the deserted campus thinking of home . . . but some . . . "Come on, chip in with us, we're cooking this big turkey!"

The Sundial is each student's good luck charm.

"Who says it ain't a mud slinger this year?"

FFER

"Break 'em fast—it's a penny a minute!"

Thad Woodard and Pam Guthrie discuss the coming election with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson on the Lady Bird Special.

"Will convocation please come to order . . ."

Bishop Hunt addresses the audience attending the Dedication ceremonies.

No equipment and tension's high . . . but the nurses are here

The Student Center is dedicated . . . a lavish ceremony, but nobody parked on the railroad tracks this time . . . the Powder Puff and Mud Bowls are battled out . . . weather conditions—sunshine and blue skies—unsatisfactory . . . so . . . the fire department soaks the field with gallons of water . . . Vaughn is victorious again . . . classes . . . tests . . . term papers . . . "Will Christmas ever come?"

Will the real Dr. Stokes please stand!

The cornerstone is finally laid . . . whew!

"But I think it should be sung in Allegro Moderato."

"Muscle Beach" expresses wild enthusiasm as Pfeiffer wins another game.

From the top floor of the center . . . the lights glare from three windows . . . through rain, snow, hail, and sleet!

"Now dear, let me do it, it was my idea!"

"I hope, I hope, I hope . . ."

The semester is completed . . . a grueling week of exams . . . but vacation at last . . . calldowns are erased . . . the girls are given a fresh start . . . some of us must say our final goodbyes, but for most of us . . . "See you next year!"

Scenes from William Stock's modern adaptation of Oedipus.

"Um-m, trace the development of civilization from the Archaic Period to the 20th Century, complete the 200 I.D.'s, and then if you have time, write a critique on the fall of the Egyptian, Greek, and Roman Empires and your solution if you had been in charge of the situation! And now for the second question . . ."

An anxious moment for the coach

"Dear Mrs. Robinson, my daughter, Alice, has permission to go to the beach for the week-end."

A new start . . . a new schedule . . . the eyele begins again, but after a festive holiday, we are ready to plunge into our studies, a little wiser than before . . . the sights and sounds continue . . . a blaring train whistle late in the night . . . basketball games . . . wrestling matches . . . all paths converging in the Student Center . . . "I have to shoot one game of pool before I study" . . . the George Washington Ball . . . formal gowns and tuxedos, corsages and boutonnieres.

Mine always look like "stick men!"

Lee Hauser and Marian McConnell reign as Martha and George for the George Washington Ball.

"Slow down! Slow down! . . ."

The faculty lounge provides relaxation for over-worked and frustrated teachers.

"Look what Santa Claus brought!"

"I can too cook!"

Chapel by moonlight . . .

The troll strikes again!

"I'll have to see how it ends first."

Most students enjoy relaxing environments for their studying.

*Snow blankets the campus as we continue our year
... snow fights ... boots and mittens ... baseball

Mrs. Cranford, assistant librarian, checks out a book.

"I've got this important tennis match this afternoon . . ."

The Winston-Salem Symphony entertains Pfeiffer.

The last snow thaws . . . Seniors dreaming of graduation . . . only with a tiny bit of a nostalgic backglance at the scenes from which they will be departing . . . Spring fever raises the temperature of the campus and the festivities of May Day arrive . . . and as time rushes on, we stop for a few moments and . . . remember.

"But we're not campused!"

"Where are the Bunnies?"

"I dare you . . ."

MAY QUEEN Miss Wanda Ballard

Every spring Pfeiffer College celebrates the age-old tradition of May Day. It is a time of festive dancing and colorful costumes climaxed by the crowning of the May Queen.

Reigning as May Queen in 1965 is Miss Wanda Ballard, a Christian Education major from New Bern, North Carolina. Each of the attendants is selected from her own class.

ADMINISTRATION
and STAFF

Dr. John Lemacks Stokes, II, President

This section of the Chimes is a portrait of the distinguished men and women who plan the curriculum of the college and supervise the intellectual development of each student. The two characteristics which all share—whether he be dean, professor, house director, athletic coach, or secretary—is cooperation and devotion. They are always willing to sacrifice their time to help individual students with their academic and personal problems. The faculty, in conjunction with the administration, aids the student in planning the liberal arts curriculum he desires to pursue, and guides the student in confronting the challenge which has become his when he entered college.

THE ORDER OF THE SUNDIAL

The Order of the Sundial is an honorary organization consisting of those outstanding students who reflect participation and achievement in the four phases of college—social, religious, cultural, and athletic. The objectives of the order, based on the motto, "Friendship is like the eternal rays of the sun," are to stimulate a wholesome interest in extracurricular activities, to develop citizenship and leadership, and to promote school spirit. The organization sponsors the Harvest Dance which is held annually each fall.

Craig Bolling; Diane Koontz; Janet Gabriel, Head Marshal; Rosa Linda Russell; Larry Wheeler.

MARSHALS

The Marshals are formally chosen by the Student Government Association from the members of the Junior Class who hold the eight highest academic records at Pfeiffer. The two juniors who are the next highest in their academic standing serve as alternates. The junior with the highest scholastic average becomes Head Marshal. They serve at commencement during their junior year and at all dramatic functions, special college days, and other official college functions during their senior year.

PHI DELTA SIGMA

The Phi Delta Sigma, a scholastic honor society, is composed of distinguished members of the faculty, student body, and alumni. The purpose of the society is to reward scholarly excellence, to disclose and to develop actual and potential talent, and to encourage intellectual leadership in the field of the liberal arts. Two-thirds of the initial membership are members of the faculty who are members of Phi Beta Kappa, and one-third are chosen from those members of the faculty who have shown scholarly achievement in the liberal arts; or earned a baccalaureate degree with honors in liberal arts; or have achieved recognition in research or as authors of scholarly publications. Students who are eligible for nomination to the society are juniors with a grade point ratio of 3.70 and seniors with one of 3.50.

Faculty Members of the Phi Delta Sigma are: Dr. Hoyt E. Bowen; Dr. J. Griffin Campbell; Miss Georgia Haswell; Mr. Kenneth D. Holshouser; Dr. J. O. Manly; Dr. Nancy D. McLaurin; Dr. Clyde H. Robertson; Dr. Bernard C. Russell; Dr. George M. Schreyer; Miss Elizabeth Shaffer; Dr. J. Lem Stokes; Dr. Cameron P. West; and Mr. Eugene W. Womble.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Alpha Psi Omega, a member of the Intercollegiate Reciprocal Drama Program, is an honor society consisting of students who have demonstrated outstanding dramatic ability and who have earned a quota of specified points. The students work not only before the lights, but also behind the scenes in the technical phase of production. Participating in conjunction with the Pfeiffer Playmakers Association, they are advised by Mr. Robert Grubbs. Mr. Grubbs and Mr. William Stock are faculty members of Alpha Psi Omega.

SIGMA PI ALPHA

The Sigma Pi Alpha Honorary Language Fraternity was organized in 1926 at North Carolina State College, Raleigh. When interest in the organization spread, the Fraternity was nationalized in 1928 and other chapters were started in many colleges.

In 1952 petitioners at Pfeiffer College received a charter from national headquarters and established the Sigma Epsilon Chapter. The purpose of the organization is to foster a continued interest in foreign language and cultures. Students of any foreign language are accepted as members, provided that they meet the standards of linguistic scholarship and interest which the fraternity upholds.

Jim Doxsey, Editor of the Pfeiffer News

The Pfeiffer News room is a unique place housing budding journalists, frustrated typists, frantic advertising and business managers, creativity, and the American ideal of free expression.

Tastefully decorated in contemporary journalistic fashion with impressive portraits of staff members on the wall, this room is the second home for many, especially on Monday nights, when the paper is "put to bed."

The Pfeiffer News is not all work, however. There is much pleasure to be derived from sharing in a creative process and working with people who are noseey enough to track down news and clever enough to know when and how to use it. Under the adept leadership of Editor Jim Doxsey and Business Manager John Bolen, the Pfeiffer News went to press once a week furnishing the campus with up-to-date news and views.

Sports writers Gordon Hill, and Warren Knapp receive assignments from the "unique" Larry Groves, Sports Editor.

News Editor, Karen Cash and Apprentice Editor, Peter Van Wageningen, pause from their busy schedule for a few moments.

THE PHOENIX

Each spring Pfeiffer's literary and art magazine, the Phoenix, appears as a recognition and sharing of the talents of a number of men and women who are members of the college community. Scouting for this talent and seeking to encourage creative effort is the work of the Phoenix staff. The result of their search is a magazine which contains poems, photographs of art work including paintings and sculpture, plays, short stories, and book reviews which are selected by a student editorial board from work which is submitted by instructors and students.

In addition to the chief and assistant editors and the editorial board, the Phoenix staff consists of a business and circulation manager who heads a business staff, a typing staff, and a photographer whose task it is to photograph the art work which appears in the magazine.

THE CHIMES

Patricia Poloff, Editor of the 1965 Chimes

The new Student Center has been welcomed by a "sturdy crew," the Chimes staff, who journeyed from the leaky dungeon dwelling of Goode Hall to a beautiful new office on the second floor of the Student Center. Plans were drawn out early as the semester began, and with the deadline date always lurking ominously in the future the editor of the 1965 edition, Pat Poloff, set the wheels of progress into motion while Mickey Blume sketched out the budget and solicited the ads. Getting a yearbook to press is a hectic job, but the staff worked side by side scheduling photograph sittings, writing copy, laying out sections, and, in general, just pitching in and battling the deadline. But no matter how bleak things looked at times, everyone felt a flood of relief and a sense of achievement when we finally sent the dummy to press.

Mick compliments his ad solicitors Pat Waters; Johnny Marshall, Advertising Manager; Dick Darlington; Johnny "Buzzard" Brasch; and Betsy Huneycutt, the layout expert on their dazzling success.

Sports Staff, Johnny Long, co-editors Ned Stanton and Diane Cawman and Harv Schuck "cut" a basketball game to write some copy. Gordon Hill and Missy DeLeurere stayed.

Nancy Cameron, Genie Woodruff, and Clara Brawley check over some back files.

Linda Shields, Managing Editor, typewriters ringing in her ears, is surrounded by her crew, Terry Carmichael, Betty Keller, and Nancy Crouse.

Professor Ken Sapp, Advisor of the Staff, listens to a suggestion by "Lauris" Semones, Literary Editor, while Anne Black, Awards and Honors Editor watches.

Janet Gabriel, Editor of Administration, Faculty and Staff "briefs" her staff Lili St. Clair, Patsy Varner, Jane Cashion, Janice Fleming, and Dottie Poston.

Photographers Dale Patterson, who is News photographer also, Frank Gunzburg, Photography Editor and Richard Fox, an assistant, discuss the fine points of photography.

W.S.P.C.

Pfeiffer College radio station, WSPC, has two primary objectives. They are to provide a medium of information and entertainment to the students of the college and to offer a level of professional training and experience in broadcasting technique to interested students. WSPC has acquired new studios and control room facilities in the new Student Union building providing more space and better operating conditions for the station. Although the station was silent for the greater part of this school year, (due to the problem of moving the equipment into the new facilities), WSPC continued to maintain its staff operations and expanded its record library. New equipment was purchased for the station and better broadcasting quality was attained. WSPC is a member in good standing of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System and has received the coveted "Pace Maker" award for college radio in 1964 from I. B. S. Charles Licari, General Manager, is in charge of station operations assisted by Warren Rule, Business Manager, and George McLaughlin, Sales Manager.

SOCCKER

With twelve returning veterans bolstered by several outstanding newcomers, Coach N. E. Lefko's charges dribbled and ran to one of its finest seasonal records. With hopes of improving on last years 4-8 record, the Falcon booters started slowly and gained momentum by mid-season. Scoring 19 goals in the last four games, they ended the season with a 7-3 record. The team was led by three outstanding players who were selected for the All-South Soccer Team—Larry Groves, Ross Hagstoz and Bob Schuck.

Larry Groves rushes in to break things up.

Coach Lefko is presented a gold cup for his achievements at Pfeiffer.

Practice makes perfect!

In 1964, Pfeiffer's soccer field was officially named the N. E. Lefko Field—an honor well-deserved.

Coach Lefko congratulates Hary, Ross, and Larry for being selected All-South.

Developing skill and technique is a difficult task, but with practice and the will to win, Pfeiffer made a fine seasonal effort.

Coach Francis Essic gives Danny Carver last minute instructions before the game.

Francis Essic climaxed last year's losing season by downing Western Carolina, a runner up in the N.A.I.A. small college national basketball championship tournament, for perhaps the biggest upset of the year. Senior veterans, Billy Wynne, Danny Carver, Larry Lentz and John Miller, have been instrumental in Pfeiffer's fine showing and the team efforts are quite deserving of the enthusiastic response of Falcon basketball fans.

On March 7, 1964, the wrestling squad entered the first wrestling tournament, as a team, the Southern A. A. U. in Atlanta, Ga., and captured first place defeating the top contenders Georgia U. and Georgia Tech. Prompted by such an overwhelming success, the squad prepared for the 64-65 season with high spirits and even though Carolina "snuck by," Pfeiffer retaliated by avenging the '64 loss to N. C. State 25-5, and the reserves put on a fine show for the home mat by trouncing St. Andrews 22-8. However, the highlights of the season have been the Chattanooga Invitational Tournament in which

Art Merrion, placed first in his weight class and won "Outstanding Wrestler of the Tournament"; Dave Crawford, Chris Cordi, and Bob Hand placed 3rd and Gary Mauldin, 4th; and the First Colonies Tournament in Virginia in which Crawford placed 1st; Dale Patterson and Art, 2nd; Chris, 3rd; and Gary, 4th; the squad received the "Best Team" trophy and got the most falls. Coach Daniels is anticipating the return to Atlanta to defend the trophy and hopes to have contestants ready for the N. A. I. A.

BASEBALL

The 1965 season opened with Pfeiffer defending the Carolinas Conference Championship for the third straight year. Pfeiffer's first year in the conference (1961), found them finishing a close second to East Carolina's National Champs. But this year Coach Ferebee's club faces a near impossible task without a .300 hitter returning. Graduated is the entire outfield—All America Randy Ewing, with fleet Bob Hadden and Mac

Lingerfelt. Also ending their careers were All Conference, Hal McManus; Bob Phillips and Sam Law. None of the returning players played full time in '64, although Herman Eaker, Dean Padgett, Hal Harrigan, Bob Schuck and John Miller played a great deal. All Conference pitchers Billy Wynne and Joe Barnes brighten the outlook considerably.

Billy Wynne, the Carolinas Conference Tournament's Most Valuable Player, is congratulated by Coach Ferebee.

Coach Ferebee and Dr. Nelson Moore, former Public Relations Director, were honored this year by the Trustees of Pfeiffer by naming the baseball field the Ferebee-Moore Field. Dr. Moore, an ardent baseball man, encouraged a number of players to come to Pfeiffer, particularly from New Jersey. He was responsible for bringing the coach to Pfeiffer. These two great friends worked together closely through all these years. Coach Ferebee was recognized for his eight years of work as Athletic Director and Coach, also for his hard work in helping provide Pfeiffer with good athletic fields.

TENNIS

Once again, Coach Wallace Martin looks forward to a strong, experienced tennis team. Even though they face a tough schedule which features many big schools, Pfeiffer should be one of the leaders of the conference.

Junior Warren Knapp, the number two singles champion of 1964, will lead a long line of veteran "net-ters" into the season. Bo Strain, Jim Wilburn and Paul Loveland will also see plenty of action. Freshman Tommy Lewis should be the fifth starter.

GOLF

With three of four members returning, the 1965 golf team seems a cinch to better last year's winning record. Bill Hall, Sammy Estridge and Barry Farr were the top three on last year's team and give this year's team much needed experience.

Entering his fifth year at the helm of the team, Coach Francis Essic will have a job picking the fourth man as interest in the golf team has improved. Transfer Mike Smith, however, seems to have the inside track.

There is no more vital part of Pfeiffer's sports scene than the Falcons' cheerleading squad. Sparked by Head Cheerleader Sandy Caldwell, the cheerleaders have boosted the spirit of the student body both before and during the games. At Homecoming, they organized a bonfire, pep rally and snake dance, and during soccer season and basketball season sparked the competition by their new and unique cheers. "They're G-R-E-A-T!"

Coach Lefko, Director of the Men's Intramural program and Alex Wingate, a student assistant and co-ordinator are tabulating the results of an intramural basketball game.

INTRAMURALS

Behind the competent leadership of the intramural directors, the Pfeiffer College intramural program enjoyed one of its finest seasons in years. Numerous students turned out to participate in the various events scheduled throughout the year. Providing a challenge for both interested male and female students, the Pfeiffer intramural program offered a keen and competitive opportunity to excel in a variety of activities. The intramural program included both individual and team sports. This year under a cumulative point system the men's program rose to new heights in participation. Trophies were awarded to the winners in each major sport and also a trophy was presented for the best over-all team. This year the Fantasians were undefeated champs in touch football. Volleyball saw the Mets capturing the championship with a 16-2 record. With seventeen teams in basketball this year; Fraley's Five will have to work hard to regain the title of champs. With the coming of Spring the three softball fields will be filled with participants including both faculty and students.

Mrs. Joan Tolbert, Director of the Women's Intramural Program, is assisted by Diane Cawman and Mary Virginia Smith.

INTRAMURALS

The hub of activities is the Mitchell Gymnasium. The program has been organized to provide all students an outlet for their sport interests and also enable them to supplement a well-rounded college curriculum. The women's intramural program provided much competition between the girls' dorms. Their program included touch football, volleyball, basketball, and softball. After the completion of each tournament a trophy was awarded to the winner at a post-tournament party. Washington dormitory gained top honors in touch football and volleyball. One of the highlights of the girls' program was the All-Star touch football game in which Washington dorm was defeated.

The Student Government Association of Pfeiffer College naturally exists to promote the interests of the student membership on the campus through channels open to it in the Executive Council, the Senate, the Student-Administrative Judicial Committee, the Women's Student Government Association, and the Men's Student Government Association. Leading the SGA is the Executive Council. This body is composed of the president, the vice president, the secretary, and the treasurer of the SGA; the presidents of the MSGA and the WSGA; the dean of men; and the dean of women.

Composing the Senate are representatives from each class, day student representatives, and the vice-chairmen of the eight men's and women's dormitories. It is from this Senate that legislation originates. In addition to being the legislative branch of the SGA, the Senate has the power to approve or reject all appointments made by the Student Government officers, to approve or reject the annual budget, and to try all impeachments of student government members.

The Senate sponsors a variety of concerts for the campus, and this year enlisted the talents of The Karl Boxer Trio, The Brandywine Singers, and The Shirelles. In addition, it plans and executes several convocation programs for the benefit of students and faculty.

THE JUDICIAL BOARD

During the 1963-1964 school year the Student Government inaugurated the new Student-Administrative Judicial Committee. Formerly composed of the student Executive Council, the dean of men, the dean of women, the academic dean, and the registrar, the new committee has retained the former administrative representatives and has replaced the Executive Council members with three student judges from the senior class, two from the junior class, and one from the freshman class.

CHRISTIAN LIFE COUNCIL

The Pfeiffer College Christian Life Council is the center of all campus activities of a religious nature. It exists in order to encourage Christian worship, fellowship, study, and service on the college campus. One of the main functions of the Christian Life Council is the promotion of a Christian atmosphere on campus through such projects as Religious Emphasis Week, weekly dormitory vesper programs, and the services of Easter week. Within the membership of the council are found individuals representing various denominations and theological points of view. The members are bound together by the common inward experience of the individual who names Jesus Christ as Lord of their lives.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega has become an integral part of the campus this year. It is a familiar sight to see the A.P.O. men ushering at Sunday services, or showing prospective students around the campus. Students and faculty appreciated their decorations of the Student Union for Christmas.

Joined together by service and fraternity, the brothers of A.P.O. are always ready to help the campus of Pfeiffer College.

PFEIFFER PLAYMAKERS

The Pfeiffer Playmakers is organized to promote the dramatic arts, acting, and technical crafts. The organization works very closely with the Department of Speech and Drama in presenting a variety of dramatic performances during the year. During the year, the Playmakers presented an original adaptation of Spoon River, a modern adoption of Oedipus, Bernarda Alba in the round, and a Playwriters Festival.

THE LETTERMAN'S CLUB

The Letterman's Club is composed of men students who have received varsity letters at Pfeiffer. Their eligibility for the club is determined by the amount of time they participate in varsity sports. The purpose of the Letterman's Club is to develop better relationships among students and between students and the community. Under the sponsorship of Coach N. E. Lefko, the club also attempts to create a spirit of unity among the athletes. It elects the annual Homecoming Queen and operates the concession stands for the basketball games.

THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL: Left to Right: Larry Lentz, Vice-President; Warren Knapp, Treasurer; Johnny Long, Secretary; and Billy Wynne, President.

"If somebody else pays their dues, we'll have enough money to shoot another game."

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Endeavoring to create and to stimulate among the women students of Pfeiffer College an enthusiastic participation in Athletics, the Woman's Athletic Association provides recreational activities for all interested women. Under the leadership of Mrs. Joan Tolbert, instructor in women's physical education, the association sponsors a full intramural program of team sports. Each girl who participates in the intramural program is a member of W. A. A., and at the end of each tournament, a trophy is presented to the winning dorm at a coke party.

Y.D.C.

The purposes of the Young Democrats Club of Pfeiffer College are to stimulate in young people an active interest in governmental affairs, to increase the efficiency of popular government, and to foster and perpetuate the ideals and principles of the Democratic Party. It recruits new members for the Democratic Party and helps to acquaint voters with the issues and the candidates.

Its programs consist of speakers who seek to better acquaint the students with their governmental responsibilities. Each year a delegation from the Pfeiffer YDC attends the state YDC convention.

Fred Campbell, President of the YDC, and Miss Mary Floyd greet three visiting Democrats to Pfeiffer—Bob Davis, Congressional Candidate, and Mrs. Davis and a student from Appalachian.

C.E.F.

The purposes of the Christian Education Fellowship can best be expressed through the meaning of its emblem. Each point of the diamond represents one aspect of the program of the fellowship. The first is love and the second is service. Next is the point representing preparation and the fourth point is dedication. The circle represents the never-ending circle of fellowship.

FELLOWSHIP TEAMS

The Fellowship Teams are organized to assist local church youth fellowships in evaluating their fellowship, study, service, and worship experiences in the light of youth needs and Christian goals of growth. Teams of four or five members respond to invitations of churches to work with the young people and their counselors to consider and to revitalize the churches' programs for youth in a concentrated effort of a week-end.

KAPPA CHI

An organization of national affiliation, the Upsilon Chapter of the Kappa Chi is a non-denominational fraternity of all students preparing to enter the pastoral ministry. The chapter is organized for the purpose of providing a medium of instruction and inspiration and for the realization of true Christian fellowship in order that its members may mutually share worship, fellowship, and service based on the ideal of Jesus Christ. The fraternity members also seek to grow in an understanding of their task as it relates to their own contemporary society.

The Baptist Student Union is the distinctive denominational ministry of the Baptist Church on all campuses. Its purpose is to conserve and help train Southern Baptist students for effective Christian discipleship.

Its functions to remind each student of his responsibility to Christ, to his church, to his denomination, and of his obligation as a Christian citizen to the world in which he lives.

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The Methodist Student Movement seeks to provide Christian atmosphere on the Pfeiffer campus by sponsoring programs and projects which stimulate the student body to Christian worship, service, and study.

This year the Methodist Student Movement has invited students from Livingstone College, Salisbury, North Carolina, to Pfeiffer in order to discuss human relations. Other programs have included such topics as pacifism and immortality.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Episcopal Canterbury Association of Pfeiffer College seeks to understand the Christian students' place in world and campus affairs. It also seeks to help its members understand the life and mission of the church through informal discussions and thought-provoking talks given by dynamic laymen in the church.

The Club exists so that students may keep informed about current church affairs and vital contemporary questions of both a national and a personal nature. Discussions, informal and earnest, perform an indispensable role in the total Canterbury program because through this medium students are privileged to express their own ideas, as well as to share in the ideas of others.

Members of the Canterbury Association take an active part in the religious and social life of Christ Church, Albemarle, North Carolina.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

The Westminster Fellowship, a student division of the Presbyterian Church, United States, is composed of students and faculty who are associated with churches of the Reformed Tradition. The organization seeks to worship, to provide fellowship, and to study through channels which will aid its members to "serve God and enjoy Him forever." (Larger Catechism) Through its program and activities the Westminster Fellowship attempts to promote Christian principles and attitudes, to make its members aware of the place of the church in contemporary society, and to acquaint them with the work and spirit of their own denomination.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Pfeiffer College Science Club is designed to provide those people interested in science with extracurricular activities in the natural sciences. Affiliated with the Collegiate Academy of Science, its membership is open to the student body, faculty, and persons from the surrounding communities.

Activities include outside speakers from the North Carolina Academy of Science and Oakridge Laboratories, and programs by faculty members and students.

THE ACCOUNTING CLUB

The only business club serving Pfeiffer campus, the Accounting Club has as its purpose the stimulating and promotion of interest in both commercial and industrial accounting. Information is made available to the members of the club through speakers who discuss various types of accounting work from all areas of business, through material from the American Accounting Association (A.A.A.), and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (A.I.C.P.A.), and through research carried out by club members.

CLASSES

SENIOR CLASS

Each class at Pfeiffer College is a particular entity in itself, made up of characteristics which give it its own personality. In its Freshman year, a class is initiated into college life as it participates in the hectic but exciting orientation. However, after classes begin, the "Frosh Panic" sets in as each new student begins slowly to adjust to his new curriculum. He begins to realize that he has to begin thinking for himself, that the professors are not going to spell the answers out, and that the three-hour-a-week study schedule he followed in high school is no longer sufficient for the purpose. The new student anxiously awaits the campus movies, sock hops, athletic events and Rec bull sessions in which he eagerly attempts to meet new friends.

The day they become Sophomores, they return to school equipped with the typical "Sophomoric attitude" and a new pride in their sophisticated status. They bestow no pity on the "green" Freshmen. They merely repeat the same critical remark day after day: "We never acted that silly, did we?" The Sophomore girls miss the security of Rowe steps and reprimand the boys in their class for participating in the "fall rush."

After the Sophomores have been through exams four times, played twenty-thousand hands of bridge, walked to the post office three times a day for two years, and changed majors twice, they are ready to settle down, shed their naivete, and enter their Junior year.

As Juniors, they forget their "Sophomore blues," and begin to take an interest in their courses since they have completed their requirements and are ready to concentrate on their major. The class is smaller and more compact, and the memories of those who have not decided to return for their junior year are very poignant. The year seems to speed by, and near the end, the juniors cannot believe that they are finally to become seniors.

When they return for their fourth year, the seniors realize that they have reached the point of no return. Beginning to regret the swiftness of time, the seniors fearfully await the finality of graduation. The class is more closely knit than ever before as each senior realizes that he will never see some of his classmates again. When June arrives, the members of the class, together for the last time, receive their diplomas with the dignity befitting graduating seniors. Each student glances back at the campus once more before he leaves. He can already visualize the new Freshman students milling around the steps of Rowe, and he wishes, though quite secretly, that he were going to be among them, only this time enhanced by the wisdom he has painfully acquired.

Want furniture that's young in spirit . . . young in price? Then . . . now's the time for American Review!

Starting from scratch . . . looking for furniture that's new and exciting, distinctive and different . . . designed for the young in heart?

This is it! A star-spangled collection for independent thinkers as well as traditionalists. American Review captures the sturdy, authentic character of Colonial America, spicily seasoned with a rich legacy of design motifs from the English, Spanish, French and Danish settlers.

A warm, bright Vintage Cherry finish enhances the natural beauty of the cherry veneers with native Appalachian hardwoods (birch, maple, cherry, beech). English Tavern, a rich, deep-toned finish is an alternate choice, as is Golden Olive, an unusual painted accent finish.

Not for everyone, of course, but if you've already declared your allegiance to the look of handcrafted antiques and family heirloom finishes, you'll be charmed with the never-ending joys of American Review (its economy, too!).

Warmly inviting, delightfully informal . . . here is the answer to your "dream-come-true."

So many versatile pieces to choose from in Drexel's many-faceted collection! And although the beautifully veneered construction looks expensive, American Review is considerably priced for new-blooded budgeting. The combination buffet and deck shown above, for instance, is approximately $389. See your Drexel dealer—sure to be one of the better stores in town.

For Drexel's booklet collection of furniture styles, send 50¢ to Drexel Furniture Company, 301 Huffman Road, Drexel, N. C.
